$75,000 Fire in Chair Plant at Thomasville

Blaze Started from Lantern Exploding in Boiler Room, It is Said—Very Little Insurance.

Thomasville, May 10.—The Standard Chair Company's plant, No. 2, located on Main street, was completely destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock this evening. The fire is said to have started from a lantern, which exploded in the boiler room. The loss is estimated at approximately $75,000, with very little insurance.

The night watchman, in making his rounds, discovered the flames, which had covered one side of the building. The wind was from the northeast, blowing the fire in the direction of the building. The structure was burned to the ground. The local fire department responded to the alarm, but by the time it got there the flames were beyond control. The plant was isolated and no other structures were in danger. Considerable amount of lumber in the yard was saved.

The Standard Chair company is owned by Frank S. Lambeth and his two sons, Charles and James E. Lambeth.

Thinks Carl Talley Has Made His Escape

Chief Vernon, of Spray, Believes the Fugitive Has Crossed Into Virginia.

Danville, Va., May 6.—That Carl Talley has succeeded in making his escape from that section in which he was being hunted today in connection with the killing of Police Officer W. T. McCuiston, of Greensboro, was the belief expressed by W. L. Vernon, chief of police, of Spray, N. C., this afternoon. He stated that he had definite information that Talley had managed to reach Spray and that early yesterday morning he was removed in an automobile towards Danville or Martinsville. He denied reports brought here by travelers on the morning train that the fugitive had been captured. Vernon stated that the information he had received had not caused any let-up in the search. No news had reached here this afternoon from Reuben Frazier, who, with three bloodhounds went to Guilford battleground with dogs also from Lynchburg to take up the chase.

Reports from Reidsville, N. C., were to the effect that Coroner J. T. Taylor, of Madison, had empaneled a jury which had viewed the body and which tonight was to hear evidence in the case at the Reidsville town hall. The coroner instructed that the remains be held until Louis Edwards can be taken before the body. The accused youth was expected to be taken to Reidsville this evening under guard from Greensboro.

Local instructions were given to the police today by Chief Bell to watch carefully for Talley, who previously had haunted here and who might seek to reënter them. A description of the man who is known here has been given to the officers.

Memorial Day Observed Here

Tuesday was Memorial Day and was fittingly observed in High Point as well as in other cities throughout the south. Local banks observed holiday, but there was not a general suspension of business here.

What proved to be the most pleasing feature of the event was a luncheon for Confederate veterans on the lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Pollock, on North Main street. The luncheon was served by the local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Immediately after the dinner which began promptly at 12 o'clock, the veterans were taken in automobiles to the cemetery, where the graves of the old soldiers were decorated.

First Made-in-Carolinas Exposition Ever Held

Company With One Hundred Thousand Dollars in Stock Formed to Construct Monster Building With 100,000 Feet of Floor Space and Hold First Exposition.

The secretary of state has just issued charter to the Carolina Exposition company. The company has one hundred thousand dollars in common stock, taken by practically all of the bankers, merchants, and business men of Charlotte.

The incorporators are as follows: A. J. Draper, past president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association and one of the best known manufacturers in the United States; J. B. Efrid, head of the Efrid chain of stores; Charles Parker, president of Parker-Gardner company; Norman A. Cocke, vice president and treasurer of the Southern Power company; David Owens, of the J. B. Ivey company; H. O. Miller, president of the Carolina Baking company; S. B. Alexander, Jr., Southern representative of Crompton-Kownles Loom works; Joe Fitzsimmons, president Carolinas Auto Supply house; Lane Etheridge, president Pyramid Motor company; John L. Dabbs, southern manager for DuPont and J. C. Patton, of The Charlotte Observer.

Purposes of Company
Work will commence within a few days on the construction of a building 250 by 400 feet, which will provide 100,000 feet of floor space, about 70,000 of which will be used for displaying Carolina-made products. The building will be thoroughly equipped for comfort and convenience, being provided with rest rooms, smoking rooms, band stand, etc.

It will be the largest building of its kind on one floor in the south. The exposition will be held most likely the first two weeks in September, exact date, along with complete list of officers to be named within the next few days.

It is predicted by those familiar with the plans that fully 100,000 people will attend this exposition, and special efforts are to be made to bring school teachers from all over the Carolinas to the show, in order that they may study the wonderful variety of exhibits on display. It will be an eye-opener to every one, for the 2,000 manufacturers of the Carolinas are manufacturing today practically every article made in America.

There will be on hand machinery making cigarettes, plug tobacco, cigars, cold drinks, hosiery, cloth, candies and medicines, shoes and wood products, and it is expected that at this show will be represented the finished products made from wool, cotton, peanuts, cotton seed, minerals, chemicals, leather and all of our raw materials. The furniture manufacturers, the woodworking manufacturers, the monument people, the shoe makers, the candy and confection manufacturers, the cloth and hosiery people, the hat makers, the overall people, the silk mills, the power developers, the fertilizer manufacturers, the chemists—in fact all of the manufacturing lines of the two states, including everything from automobiles and farm implements, and on down to toothpicks will be on display.

Millions Sent Away.
Each year millions upon millions of dollars are sent out of the Carolinas for goods that are being made at home in equal quality and the main purpose of this, the first Made-in-Carolinas exhibit ever held, is to familiarize the people of the two Carolinas with the wonderful variety and matchless quality of home-made goods, so that more liberal backing may be given the home products.

Various committees are at work arranging the many details of this exposition—an exposition which is by far the largest every before attempted by any states of the south. The committee on entertainment will bring a musical program to the show which will cost $15,000 to $18,000. The most noted band and the most noted talent of America will be on hand for the two weeks.

In addition various meetings of associations and industrial bodies will be held during the show. The exhibits will come from all parts of the Carolinas and already over 10,000 feet of floor space has been spoken for by such well known manufacturers as the American Tobacco Company, Anderson Motor Co., Rock Hill, S. C.; Durham Hosiery Mills, P. H. Hanes Knitting Mills, Liddell Foundry; Cement Products Corporation, of Wilmington; American Products Corporation, of Reidsville; Geoghegan Shirt Co., of Reidsville; El-Rees-Sa Cigar company, of Greensboro; Southern Ice Machine Co., Carolina Baking company; Lance Packing company, Charlotte Marble and Granite Works, and numerous other Charlotte concerns; Tomlinson Chair Company, of High Point; Citizens Lumber company, of Biltmore, etc.

Wanted—500 Girls to Give Up Toy Poms And Teas for Worth While Substitute

Around the fireplace at the College in New York where Salvation Army lassies are trained for their exacting work. Insert—Lieutenant Colonel Margaret Bovill, Secretary of the Woman's Social Department of the Salvation Army.

No languishing in bed until ten every morning, with novel and a box of chocolates; no shopping tours and matinees; no tea dances; no nightly cabaret tours. Hard work. Devotion to the sick, the troubled, the disheartened.

Young woman, how do you fancy this program of existence? Five hundred young women with energy and a desire to lead lives of usefulness are sought by the Salvation Army throughout the United States. As lassies they will spread comfort and happiness.

"The work of the Salvation Army has grown beyond our fondest hopes; we need capable young women to carry on our service to humanity," said Mrs. Colonel Margaret Bovill, veteran Salvationist. She is at the head of all activities for women and children east of the Mississippi River. Her offices are at National Headquarters, No. 122, West Fourteenth street, New York.

"Do you know," she asked, "there are more than 1,000,000 idle women in the United States? The ambitions of these idlers have not gone beyond the stage of bonbons and the latest novel. A large proportion of these would welcome, I feel sure, a chance to lead lives of usefulness if they knew the opportunity. The Salvation Army now offers them every sort of useful work—nursing in the Army's hospitals, infant hygiene in the children's homes, relief and rescue work in the slums.

"Two thousand unfortunate women are cared for annually in Salvation Army rescue homes. Young women are needed to help these girls take care of their nameless babies and lead useful Christian lives. In our nurseries and kindred institutions every year 50,000 children are cared for. What an opportunity for the girl who loves sweet, chubby toddlers! I know of no more happy girls than our Salvation Army lassies. The trumpet has sounded. Young woman, the Army needs you!"

Three High Point Men in An Auto Accident

Marvin Tuttle Seriously Hurt When Car Turns Over on Winston-Salem Road

Marvin Tuttle is in a local hospital in a serious condition as the result of injuries received Saturday night when an automobile in which he and "Bob" Osborne and Arthur Small were riding turned turtle on the Winston-Salem road two miles from the city.

According to the story of the accident told by Osborne, who was the less injured of the three, the accident was caused by a blow-out of one of the tires. The machine is said to have turned over three times and it is considered remarkable that the three men were not killed outright. Osborne received a painful cut on the head, while Small suffered three broken ribs. Tuttle was the only one of the trio taken to the hospital.

Another automobile accident occurred on the Archdale road Monday afternoon. Haywood Bickey and D. E. Tysinger, of this city, are reported to have been seriously injured when their automobile turned over. The two men were brought to a local hospital for medical attention. The automobile was badly damaged.

Outlaw Proclamation Is Issued for Talley

Proceedings Signed by Magistrate D. H. Collins and J. R. Caffey—Will Increase Reward

Carl Talley was Monday declared an outlaw, the proclamation being signed by D. H. Collins and J. R. Caffey, justices of the peace, after Deputy M. D. Caffey had signed an affidavit declaring Talley a fugitive from justice.

The proclamation, which was posted at the courthouse Monday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock, empowers Sheriff Stafford to take any such action as he may deem necessary to apprehend the fugitive who is wanted for the murder of Policeman W. Thomas McCuiston last Wednesday.

A message was received from Governor Morison Monday saying that the state would add $250 to the reward offered by the city and the county, making the total reward $500, as soon as the money offered by the county and city was placed in a bank. This has been done, and Governor Morison has been notified. It was understood Monday night that a number of men, who believe the reward offered is too low, will start a campaign on the streets to raise an additional $1,000 to add to the amount offered.

Officers believe that Talley has been successful in escaping from the section where the search for him has been conducted for several days. It is the belief of many that he has crossed the Virginia line, while others think that he has made his way to his home at Leaksville and is being concealed there or nearby by friends or relatives.

Germany Accepts Reparation Terms of the Allies

Huns Must Pay Huge Sum—Germany Agrees to Pay Approximately $33,750,000,000 and Fulfillment of Various Other Requirements of the Peace Treaty.

Berlin, May 10.—Germany has accepted the allied ultimatum. The Reichstag tonight by a vote of 211 to 175, yielded to the final demands of the allied powers, and, in so doing, agreed to fulfill the terms of the treaty of Versailles "to the capacity" of the nation to do so.

Dr. Wirth, the Centrist leader, finally succeeded in forming a coalition cabinet composed of Centrists, majority socialists and Democrats, which, confronted by grave necessity, speedily decided that acceptance of the ultimatum was the only course.

In making this announcement to the Reichstag the new chancellor asked for an immediate decision by that body, and in the voting which followed, the government was sustained.

The allied ultimatum required a definite reply, based on "yes" or "no." No conditional reply would be entertained, and the ultimatum was formulated to expire on the night of May 12.

The total sum which Germany is called upon to pay is $6,750,000,000 pounds; disarmament must be carried out by Germany in accordance with the provisions of the treaty and the trial of war criminals must be put into effect.

Knights of the Air As Well As Knights of the K. K. K.

Responding to a petition signed by seven hundred prominent citizens throughout the country, including Major General Chas. T. Menchor, chief of the air service of the United States government, and General John J. Pershing, it was announced here today that Colonel William J. Simmons, Imperial Wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, had accepted an invitation to head an organization now being formed in Philadelphia to be known as the Knights of the Air.

The petition was presented to Colonel Simmons at a closed meeting of the Ku Klux Klan held in the Atlanta theatre this morning incident to the annual anniversary celebration of the order and was read by Major C. Anderson Wright, noted world war aviator, of Philadelphia and New York. Major Wright, in an address urging Col. Simmons to accept the proffered position, declared the Knights of the Air, which is intended to guarantee forever to the United States supremacy in the aerial field, has the full endorsement of government officials interested in this phase of national development.

Others signing the petition besides General Menchor and General Pershing were: Reed Landis, son of Judge K. M. Landis, of Chicago; Eddie Rickens, probably the most noted flyer in the world; Jack M. Schwab, J. S. Owens and Chas. J. Biddle, all flyers of national renown; Wm. C. Potter, chairman of the board of directors of the Guarantee Trust Company, of New York; Byrley J. Osborn, President of the Aero Club of Massachusetts who, with his name, furnished a list of 300 members of his organization urging Col. Simmons to head the Knights of the Air; K. M. Turner, President of the Aero club of Southern California; Commander A. Ibert C. Read, of the Naval Air Service, who was pilot of the famous NC-4 during its flight across the Atlantic. Major Wright, who presented the petition, was a captain of infantry until transferred to the air service. He has received citations and diplomas from many countries including England, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Japan, The Netherlands and others. He holds a reserve officer's rank in the Air Service of the United States, is lieutenant colonel in the National Guard and is an honorary member of more than fifty aerial clubs besides being president of the Aerial Club of Texas and the Mississippi Aviation Clubs Association, both of which he organized.

Major Wright told Col. Simmons that several months ago leading aviators and others interested in promoting the interests of the United States along aviation lines determined to form a compact national organization for this purpose. They desired this organization should be headed by a man of large type, nationally known and with the genius to organize. Such a man, they unanimously agreed, was to be found in Colonel Simmons. Accordingly a formal petition was drawn up and sent to about seven hundred prominent citizens, airmen and others, all of whom returned the petition and endorsed.

Further details of the plans of organization for the Knights of the Air will be announced as soon as Colonel Simmons has opportunity to confer further with leaders in the movement.

Buried Among the Laurel and the Ivy

Beloved Woman Passes to the Great Beyond

Mrs. Claude E. Jones, Beautiful Christian Character, Dies at Her Home in Liberty—Remains Interred at Whitakers, Near Pilot Mountain, Wednesday.

One of the saddest funerals the writer ever attended was at a little country church, three miles west of Pilot Mountain, known as Whitaker's Methodist church, Wednesday, May 4th, just after the noon hour.

Friends for miles around had gathered to pay their last sad respects to the memory of the late Mrs. Claude E. Jones, who had lived in that section when a girl, but who at the time of her death was residing in Liberty. The remains were accompanied by a number of people from Liberty, Mr. C. E. Jones, the father and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peel, of Ramsey, Route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Durant Pell, of Ramsey; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stamey, of High Point; Mr. Blaine Forkner, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. J. T. Herrin, of Camp Eustis, Va.; D. Wey A. Herrin, Miss Sonia Forkner and Miss Annie Denny, of Winston; Miss Elmer Forkner, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Pilot Mountain; Miss Mamie Jones, of Mt. Airy, and several others whose names we cannot recall.

The funeral party was met at the station at Pilot Mountain by a large number of friends and members of the family of the deceased. Here the journey was taken up to the little white country church, where the remains were interred.

It was 12:30 o'clock when the services began and at this time the church was full to overflowing. Scores of beautiful floral designs accompanied the remains but as many more came from the hills, brought by friends of the families and they were just as pretty and we thought far more significant because they were wild nature's own offering. Unlike the beautiful hot house flowers they grew out in God's great open, protected only by the hillside; strong and sturdy like the good people of their section. The old man, the young girl, the aged woman, the maiden with the blush of health upon her cheeks, all came and laid their pretty wreaths of flowers upon the pulpit stand and on benches, until all the available room around the pulpit was covered with sweet scented flowers.

The first song was "Asleep in Jesus," followed by another song "Only a Dream." The minister of the deceased, Rev. J. W. Combs, accompanied the remains from Liberty and preached the funeral. He had known Mrs. Jones for several years and found in her a beautiful type of Christian character. Rev. Mr. Combs read from the 90th Psalm, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," etc., and from the 15th Chapter of Corinthians—the great resurrection sermon as he liked to call it. He paid a beautiful tribute to the deceased, saying, like Mary, she was a consecrated Christian, always about her Master's business and always seeking more of the Great Truth. A portion of the 14th chapter of St. Mark was also read in connection with the funeral. The preacher asked the congregation to bear with him as he tried to tell of the life and death of the deceased, whose loss he felt as keenly as the family. At times he would break down and could go no further for a short period, his emotions overwhelming him. "She hath done what she could," touchingly declared the speaker, "and I am sure she is in glory today."

When he referred to little Dwight and Glenn Jones and the infant, Martha Maude, of only 10 days, who with the father were so sorely bereft, there was not a dry eye in the house; strong men and sympathetic women broke down and cried and the whole house was under an emotional spell.

After Mr. Combs closed, he asked if there was any one in the house who wanted to say a word. Mr. Herbert Smith, a loyal friend to the family, arose and between sobs and tears, paid a beautiful tribute to the good woman who lay cold in death before the audience.

Mrs. Dr. Flippin, of Pilot Mountain, made a very pretty talk, but like the others finished with difficulty. She had known the deceased for years and also found in her a beautiful Christian character.

The casket was then opened and the friends and family looked upon the remains. It was a heartbreaking scene as the family gathered around to look for the last time upon the form of their loved one in this world.

The services were concluded at the grave, using the Methodist ritualistic service. The floral offerings covered the grave completely and left many to place alongside the grave, so many were these testimonials of esteem sent.

The deceased was born October 29, 1893, and died May 2, 1921. She joined the Baptist church at the age of 14 and was married to Mr. C. E. Jones in 1910, after which she joined the church of her husband's faith, the Methodist Episcopal. Three children and husband survive, besides father one brother and sister, two half sisters and one half brother, besides numerous relatives to mourn their loss.
